EARLHAM WINS EASY ONE

TRIMS ROSE POLY, 39 TO 16

Quakers Take the First Decisive Step Toward Secondary Championship in a Rather Slow Contest

Earlham took her first decisive step toward the Indiana secondary basket-ball championship last night, in a walk-away victory over Rose Polytechnic at the Coliseum by a score of 39 to 16, in a game that, while slow a good part of the time, only fast and exciting in spots, was interesting because of what was at stake.

From the time the whistle blew it was apparent that the Quaker squad would not be forced to go the limit, although within the opening six and one-half minutes of play, Rose Poly tied up the score and, in fact, went ahead of Earlham by two points, following a foul goal tossed by Kelly. Then after three minutes of play Rowe started the ball rolling for Earlham, and the Quaker squad romped away with seven field goals and took a handsome lead, while the visitors were unable to score another point. The score at the end of the first half was 22 to 8.

The game last night was far from being a repetition of the Indiana-Earlham contest a week ago, nor did Earlham play the classy game that was shown against the state university squad. This was probably due, however, to the fact that the Quakers were aware of their accredited superiority over the west-state team. It might also be stated that last night's contest was far from being the equal of the Rose Poly-Earlham contest a year ago, in which the secondary championship was at stake, and in which

TO GIVE "SWEET LAVENDER"

Day Students Make Final Choice for Spring Play

The day students will present "Sweet Lavender," a three-act comedy, in the college chapel Friday, April 7. The committee appointed to select a play has decided upon this one by Sir Arthur Pinero, and it was submitted to and accepted by the day students for their approval yesterday.

The drama is one of the best known on the American and English stages. It was written by a noted English dramatist and has been presented successfully by leading companies here and abroad. Besides being acted by professionals it has been staged by the high school at Des Moines and by the students of Indiana University.

GAVE SCIENTIFIC ATTITUDE

Prof. Edwin Morrison Discussed Religion and Science

Prof. Edwin Morrison delivered an address on "Religion and Science," at Wednesday morning's chapel. The relation of the man of scientific mind to the Christian religion was brought out during the talk. He said that many of the great scientific thinkers have been devoted Christians. Without being able to explain their relation to the Deity in a material line of thought, the scientific men have found great satisfaction in the philosophy of their religion, was the gist of another statement. Prof. Morrison stated that he interpreted the Bible as a message of glad tidings rather than a warning of eternal punishment. The interpretation of the Scripture by scientific workers has been a proof of the universal application of Christianity, was one of his expressions.

This view of the relation of science to religion was well received by the students, and the address of the professor was greatly appreciated.

HOLD DAILY MEETINGS

SUCCESS IS NOW APPARENT

Special Services of Earlham Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. to Continue Two Weeks, Showing Good Results

Last Monday evening revival services, to continue for a period of two weeks, were started at Earlham under the respective leaderships of the college Y. M. C. A. and the college Y. W. C. A.

Throughout the state of Indiana the special efforts are being made on behalf of the college students as near as possible to the day of prayer, February 9. Winona Technical School, Hanover College and Indiana University have held their meetings with splendid results, and their success seems to have moved on to Earlham.

The Y. W. C. A. meetings are being led by members of the Earlham faculty. Monday, Prof. Allen D. Hole talked effectively upon the "Eternal Thing"; Tuesday, the subject, "Christian Responsibility," was taken by Mrs. M. A. J. Ballard; Miss Simms used for her topic on Wednesday, "The Solution of Life's Problems;" "Spiritual Regeneration" was the theme of Prof. Russell's discourse on Thursday, and Prof. Laurence Hadley talked last night.

The meetings have been very effective, and the girls are taking interest in them.

SUMMER SCHOOL IS SETTLED

Destructive Legislation Not Passed and Department Will Open

The summer school, the plans for which have been unsettled since the state legislature has had before it a bill for rescinding of the teachers' qualification act which requires professional training of at least twelve weeks and a high school diploma, is now assured. The professional work for teachers and the twelve week term would have been discontinued had the legislation been passed. President Kelly returned from Indianapolis where he attended a meeting of the state board of education, Thursday, with the assurance that no destructive educational legislation would be passed, and he immediately began plans for the summer session. The faculty had up for discussion the changing of the program of the summer term at the meeting Wednesday. It seems desirable that the summer session should not overlap the spring term three weeks as has been the case since the new law was passed. It was found necessary, however, to have the program the same for the coming term.

RULES WERE ADOPTED

FACULTY IN FINAL ACTION

"Condition" Regulations, Including Mid-Term Reports, Are Now in Full Force and Effect in Earlham

The first two rules which were considered by Earlham College at the last faculty meeting have become college regulations. The third one concerning eligibility to participate in college affairs was defeated. The two new regulations will effect students getting a grade below "D," and those not making full credits in at least ten hours' work. The rule concerning dropping a student from college for the latter cause was passed with the addition that he should be dropped at the discretion of the president.

The new rules are as follows:

1. Warning shall be sent at the close of each term and half-term to all students and the parents of all students whose work falls below "D" in any subject.

2. Any student, who, at the close of any term, receives the grade "N. P." in work aggregating ten hours, and who has received warning at the close of the preceding half-term, will be dropped from college at the discretion of the president.

The new rules will necessitate a report from the members of the

SCHOLARSHIPS AWARDED

BRYN MAWR AND HAVERFORD

Miss Edith E. Wildman Named to Former and Harmon Maier Chosen for Latter, by Earlham Faculty

The announcement of the Earlham awards of the Haverford and Bryn Mawr scholarships was made in chapel Thursday morning by Prof. J. H. Coffin, in the absence of President Robert L. Kelly, on behalf of the faculty. Harmon Maier was appointed to the Haverford scholarship, with Homer L. Morris as alternate, and Miss Edith E. Wildman was named for that of Bryn Mawr, with Miss Virginia Graves as alternate.

The appointments were made by vote at a faculty meeting Wednesday evening. Slips upon which the grades of the members of the Senior Class were listed and averaged in a number of ways, percentage of A's and B's; numerical basis, were made out for each member of the faculty. The scholarships, however, were not awarded on the basis of grades alone, but upon the consideration of the best representation of the college. The average grade counted on a numerical basis computed on a numerical basis follows. It is to be noted, however, that as the grades are given in, by letter and not by a percentage basis, the averages are not absolutely accurate.

On numerical basis: Men—
Harmon Maier, 95.69.
Wendell H. Pitts, 95.17 or .51.
Andrew Scott, 94.41.
D. Albert Haworth, 94.14 or .30.
J. Philip Bruner, 87.30.
Homer L. Morris, alternate, stood fourteenth in the list of percentages.

DR. MERRILL WAS IN CHAPEL

Y. M. C. A. Revival Leader Talked About Prayer Friday

One thing that bothers the laymen in Biblical stories is that they are full of assurance, but hard to practice, according to the talk by Dr. William P. Merrill, pastor of the Sixth Presbyterian Church of Chicago, in chapel Friday morning.

"Although there is no limit to what the Bible says may be done through prayer," said Dr. Merrill, "the way to be effective is to study deeper into the sentences relating to it. Real effective prayer is an art one has to learn by plain hard seeking and practice. When one has this secret one has the key to life."

ON FRIDAY

At eight o'clock this morning it was not known just what rate would be available for the Indianapolis trip next Friday. Though a reduced rate is probable, the trip can be made most pleasantly at a low cost without a special concession from the traction company. The splendid buildings of the Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. at Indianapolis are open to all college association men and women and afford delightful headquarters for the day. There will be many Earlham alumni and old students at the game and the contest, and they will expect Earlham to make a splendid showing. They have a right to expect it, and every additional student that makes the trip will better the chances of Earlham's team and Earlham's orator.

THE TASK.

Earlham made her first step toward the secondary basket-ball championship last night when she defeated Rose Polytechnic. There are just two steps yet to be taken. De Pauw must be defeated at Indianapolis next Friday, and Wabash at Richmond one week from that date. Butler, Hanover, Franklin, Rose Poly and State Normal are all out of the race. Wabash's decisive defeat of De Pauw last night indicates the magnitude of the task that faces Earlham when the Wabash and Quaker teams meet.

Earlham turned out the winner, by a score of 28 to 27. A year ago Earlham won the game in the last thirty seconds of play, a field goal by Mote, and last night, while Rose Poly did not come near winning this year's game, the visitors chalked up the final score within the last three seconds, a field goal by Gray. Just as Referee Cook tossed up the ball following the goal the final whistle blew.

The game was slow practically from the first, although there were flashes of fast and speedy playing, particularly in the first half when the visitors went ahead of Earlham. The Rose Poly team, however, held the lead but a very short time, when Earlham went to the front and never was headed throughout the rest of the game. The close, sultry weather, perhaps, was responsible to a large extent for the slowness of the game, as it was noticeable on the players during the larger part of the contest.

Earlham's attack was strong, and the general team work, especially the dribbling was good. The Rose Poly squad was unable to break up Earlham's play. The Quakers had many more shots at the basket than did the visitors, but on goal-throwing the Earlham squad was a trifle off form. Captain Reagan and Conrad put up the best game for the home team, while Gray and Kelly did stellar work for the visitors.

During the second half Beery went in at Rowe's forward; C. Jones took Gilbert's position at Center, and B. Stanley supplanted Furnas at guard. The Rose Poly line-up was changed during the second half also, Captain Offut going to Demming's forward, and Poggemsee taking the vacated guard.

Although Earlham has played a number of games this season, last night's contest was the first that has a bearing on the secondary championship. The next struggle will be with De Pauw at Indianapolis next Friday afternoon. Following that will come the wind-up of the season with Wabash as the attraction at the Coliseum Friday night, March 3. Earlham has a good chance to win the De Pauw game, and if such is the outcome, the secondary honors will necessarily be tied up in the result of the Wabash-Earlham game.

The scoring last night was opened by Earlham, a clean field goal tossed by Rowe, in 1:30. Conrad followed with another 15 seconds later and still another after 2:30 of play. Thirty seconds after Earlham made the score stand 6 to 0, Rose Poly's speedy forward, Kelly, registered the visitors' first points, a field goal. This he followed with a foul goal, and in 4:50 play he tossed another field goal. Rose took the lead when Gray shot a basket, in 6:30, and a foul goal by Kelly. For three minutes and twenty seconds the teams struggled along, and during this time one of the real exciting bits of play was brought to the fore. The ice was broken by Rowe, however, with a field goal, which was closely followed with a foul goal by Conrad. Then Earlham rolled in six field goals — Rowe, 10:50; Conrad, 14:10; Gilbert, 14:25, which he dribbled the full length of the floor and tossed; Conrad, 14:50; then a foul goal by Conrad; Reagan, 18:20, and Rowe, 19:40.

The second half opened a trifle slowed up, but Earlham again began the scoring, a field goal thrown by Gilbert, after receiving the ball from four long passes down the floor, in 2 minutes. Gilbert followed this with another field goal 25 seconds later. Gray, Rose Poly center, was injured, but resumed his position. Offut then threw a field goal for Rose after 5 minutes play, but in 20 seconds, following Rowe's fifth field goal, Earlham ran away with the game. In 7:10 of play Reagan shot a basket, and Conrad followed with another in 11:15. Beery supplanted Rowe at forward. Conrad added another field goal in 15:15, tossed his third in the half in 16:20, and then ended Earlham's scoring with the field goal in 17:40. Shortly following this B. Stanley and C. Jones went into the game. In the half Conrad threw one foul goal out of two attempts. Offut for Rose Poly threw two fouls in the period. The final scoring was done by the visitors, a field goal by Poggemsee in 18:50, and another by Gray three seconds before the game closed.

The line-up was as follows:

ROSE POLY	EARLHAM
	Forward
Kelly	Reagan
	Forward
Demming, Offut.....	Rowe, Beery
	Center
Gray	Gilbert, Jones
	Guard

In the preliminary game before the big contest, the Richmond high school basket-ball team defeated the Rushville high school squad by a score of 30 to 29. Many Birds May Be Seen At This Time of the Year

By M. S. MARKLE.

"In the spring the young man's fancy lightly turns to thoughts of —birds."

The arrival of the first robin is one of the principal events in the yearly calendar even of the person whose knowledge of birds is confined to a dozen species; but to the full-fledged bird student the spring migration is an ever-renewed source of pleasure.

I have often heard students wonder why an advanced course in birds is not offered here. But such a course is not necessary, for the student who has had the first year course with accompaniments, is well prepared for doing independent work in bird study. Indeed, he misses the most pleasurable and profitable part of the study if he fails to continue the work during succeeding springs. Already many former bird students are showing a keen interest in the observation of the migration just beginning.

But there seems to be more or less confusion as to what species one may expect to see now. Following is a list of birds seen this spring by Fred Emerson: Dove, Cooper's hawk, redtail hawk, red-shouldered hawk, sparrow hawk, screech owl, kingfisher, downy woodpecker, flicker, horned lark, jay, crow, meadow-lark, English sparrow, tree sparrow, song sparrow, junco, redbird, Carolina wren, white breasted nuthatch, titmouse, chickadee, and robin.

All are winter resident or permanent residents excepting the robin. Others that one may see at any time are the bobwhite, hairy woodpecker, goldfinch, chewink, titlark, golden crowned kinglet and pine siskin. The bluebird has been reported. The buzzard, kildeer and blackbird may be expected at any time, though probably no other migrants will arrive before March 1.

SCHOLARSHIPS AWARDED

Girls—Virginia Graves, 96.03.
Edith Wildman, 95.24.
Rachel Calvert, 94.98.
Catherine Hartman, 94.19.

The two possibilities in the case of two of the men were caused by a different system of grading, which one professor used for one year.

Miss Wildman and Mr. Maier are not able to state yet whether they will be able to make use of the scholarships, but it is probable that both of them will accept the appointment. Mr. Morris has stated that he probably could not accept the scholarship even if Mr. Maier were unable to use it. The scholarships carry an annual stipend of $300 each.

TRACK PROSPECTS GOOD EARLHAM WILL BE STRONG

Eight "E" Men and New Material in Freshman Class Make E. C. Loom Up As Important Factor

The track prospects for 1911 are, by far, better than they were at this time last year, and Earlham will undoubtedly again be a strong factor in the secondary championship race. Eight "E" men of last year's championship team will be back in harness for the Quaker team. They are Capt. Conrad, Brown, C. Stanley, Kelsay, Winslow, Barnhart, Maier, Roberts and Haworth.

The team which was composed of these men stood out as the premier track aggregation of Indiana and Ohio; it won the I. C. A. L. championship meet over Wabash, De Pauw, Rose Poly, Franklin and Hanover, and defeated De Pauw and Miami in dual meets by overwhelming scores. The Freshman Class has men who will no doubt add strength to this year's team, the most promising of whom are Lewis, Rowe, Cotton, Jones and Lancaster.

Having won the championship four times during the past eight years, Earlham has every chance of taking it again this year. Earlham won the championship in '03 and '04, and in the following two years Rose Poly succeeded in carrying off the laurels, only to be succeeded by Wabash in '07 and '08, and Earlham again stepped in for her share of the honors in '09 and '10.

Capt. Conrad who stamped himself as one of the best athletes in the middle west last year will again be at the head of the "thinly clad" this year. His records in the dashes speak for themselves, as to his ability as a sprinter, he ran the 100 yards in 9 4-5 seconds, and 220 yards dash in 21 2-5 seconds. He covered 22 feet 4 1/2 inches in the broad jump, and cleared the bar in the high jump at 5 feet 10 1-3 inches. Although vaulting for the first time last year he succeeded in going 11 feet 2 inches, which he will undoubtedly be able to raise this year. These five events will almost assure Earlham a total of 25 points in any meet.

Brown, who won first in every meet last year, and who proved himself to be the best quarter-miler in the state, will probably be able to lower his old record of 51 2-5 seconds. He can also be counted upon in the 220-yard dash and in the low hurdles.

Clinton Stanley will easily take care of the weight events, with Kelsay a good second man. These men, with their former experience, should be able to lower Earlham's records considerably this year.

The relay team has an abundance of material in Brown, Winslow, Barnhart and Stanley of last year's team and Lewis and Jones of the Freshman Class. The 880-yard run and the mile run are short of material and men will have to be developed for these events. Haworth and T. E. Jones of last year's team, and C. Jones and Rowe of the Freshman Class could probably be developed to win points in these events.

Magaw and Brown of last year's squad will be depended upon to take care of Earlham in the hurdles although Magaw failed to take any points last year.

The schedule is not completed, but Wabash and Cincinnati will probably be met in dual meets. The I. C. A. L. meet will be held at Crawfordsville this year.

WANT THE RIGHT TO STROLL

Day Student Girls Objecting to Proposed New Restriction

Some of the day student girls expect vigorously to oppose the part of the new constitution for student government which will prohibit them from walking with the men during recitation hours. About a week ago a committee was appointed to write a constitution and at the suggestion of Dean Catherine Snapp such a restriction was inserted.

The report of the committee will be acted upon by the day student girls Monday noon, and it is expected that considerable opposition will be met with. The girls have been remonstrating with the committee against such a provision, but the matter will be left to the girls as a body.

One of the objects of having the provision is to keep the day student girls from walking with the men at times when dormitory students are prohibited. The day student girls are contending that it is an unjust discrimination, because they are not at the college after 4 o'clock and after dinner when the residents of Earlham and Bundy Halls are permitted to walk together.

Just what action will be taken is a matter of doubt, although a number of the girls are working hard to defeat the proposed regulation.

The Y. M. C. A. has a special leader, Dr. W. P. Merrill, pastor of the Sixth Presbyterian Church, of Chicago. Dr. Merrill has been assisted during the present week by F. S. Johnson, state secretary of the college-Y. M. C. A. of Indiana. The men are getting acquainted with these leaders and much good has already been done.

Earlham has a distinctive religious atmosphere, and although it may seem that she needs such efforts less than other communities, the services during past years have yielded wonderful results. The present meetings bid fair to be causally productive.

STATE CONTEST FRIDAY PLANS JUST ABOUT FINISHED

Besides Oratorical Struggle At Indianapolis, Earlham-DePauw Basketball Will Be Big Feature

The final arrangements for the trip to Indianapolis, the occasion of the state oratorical contest next Friday, are now under way. As a result of the half-holiday for Friday morning, which the faculty has granted, the crowd will probably leave early in the morning. It is the intention of a number of the students to visit the legislature until noon, as that will be the most favorable opportunity. In the afternoon the whole outlay of 200 students, which are expected from Earlham, will be in attendance at the De Pauw-Earlham basketball game at the Y. M. C. A., where last year's defeat is to be redeemed by the Cream and Yellow ball-tossers. In the evening is the big event of the day, to be held at Tomlinson Hall. The contest is expected to be one of the closest in years, and with the excellent showing which Jones, the Earlham man, is expected to make, it is predicted that enthusiasm will run riot. The usual Earlham section has been procured.

FRESHMEN FINISH ELECTION

New Officials To Assume New Duties At Once

The Freshman Class completed its election of officers Monday, when members were elected to the treasurership and as marshal.

The completed list of officers is as follows:

Harold Rogers, President.
Clyde Nelson, Vice-President.
Olive Wildman, Secretary.
W. C. Plummer, Treasurer.
Clayborn Jones and Howard Hurst, Marshals.

The new officials of the class will take up their duties at once. The social functions of the class are to be in charge of a special standing committee, the members of which will be announced later.

LATIN CLUB HEARS LECTURE

Mrs. C. K. Chase Gives Talk on Ancient Art

The meeting of the Latin Club, which should have been held Wednesday, was postponed until Friday evening because of a faculty meeting. The speaker for the evening was Mrs. C. K. Chase, who gave a stereopticon lecture on Ancient Art. Mrs. Chase has been abroad during the past winter and the club had the benefit of a series of splendid lantern slides which she secured and brought home with her. The lecture was delivered in Morrison-Reeves Library, Richmond.

NOT THE MAN WANTED HERE

Alleged Forger at Indianapolis Not
Earlham Bunco-Steerer

It was thought that the swindler who recently obtained $75 from the college on a worthless check might be the man arrested at Springfield, Mo., the first of the week. James E. Walker, an alleged swindler of the Central Business College of Indianapolis, was the man captured, and his methods so closely resembled those of the man who buncoed Earlham College that inquiry was made into the case by the authorities. The prisoner proved not to be the man wanted here. It is not improbable, however, that the two men have been working in conjunction.

Week's Social Events

Several students attended the concert given by Alexander Heine-mann, the famous German Lieder singer, at the Coliseum, Wednesday evening.

W. P. Merrill, of Chicago, who is holding the Earlham Y. M. C. A. meetings, was honor guest at an enjoyable affair Thursday evening, in the nature of a stag social.

Miss Mary Wagner, of Knights-town, was the guest of Miss Ruby Zion during the past week-end.

Miss Wilma Reeves spent Sunday with her parents at Valley Mills.

The following former Earlham students were back to attend the Earlham-Indiana game: Howard Winslow, '09; Edna Hall, '10; Louise Estes, '10; Mable Newsom White, ex-'11; Lucile Jones, ex-'11; Bertha Hollowell, ex-'11; Leland Comstock, ex-'12; John Cox, ex-'14; Robert Sanders, ex-'12; Geo. Fishing, ex-'12, and Marcia Furnas, '06.

Miss Gertrude Bartel entertained at a house party, at her home on South Sixteenth street, Richmond, from Friday evening until Sunday evening, the Misses Sabina Hutton, Edith Edwards, Caroline Nicholson, Helen Keyes, chaperone, Gertrude Simms, Mary Dieter, Margaret Hampton, Lucile Carter and Florence Long. Messrs. Chester Reagan, Russell Winslow, G. A. Lehman, T. E. Jones, Bernhard Knollenberg, Walter Fishing, Fred Fossett, Horace Reed, Walter Hays, Homer Morris and G. Moffett were guests Saturday evening.

The following party took dinner at the City Restaurant, Tuesday evening: The Misses Rachel Calvert, Florence Long, Mildred Hadley, Tracy Abrams; and Messrs. Paul Furnas, William Evans, T. Sherman and William Carey.

Miss Catherine Cooper will be the guest of Miss Francis Burke during the week-end.

Miss Clara Brown, former governess at Earlham, visited friends during the week.

Messrs. Paul Furnas, Philip Bruner and Mark Wilson took dinner with Mr. Bruner's parents at Greenfield, Sunday.

The dormitory girls gave an informal reception for the day student girls, Saturday afternoon.

The Misses Pauline White, Margaret Templeton, Mable Aschbacher and Cecil Hill, and Messrs. Harmon Maier, Fred Francis, T. Stanley and Carl Weesner took dinner with Mrs. Watts, Saturday evening.

The Misses Marcia Furnas, Bertha Hollowell, Mary Wagner, Ruby Zion, Mildred Barrett, Mar-riam Furnas, Riah Fagan and Dorothy Jones, and Messrs. Paul Furnas, Robert Sanders, Mark Wilson, Homer Furnas, Hugh Lawrence, Philip Furnas and Jack Janney, spent an enjoyable evening at the Murray theater, Saturday evening.

TOUCHED SINGING OF HYMNS

Prof. J. H. Coffin Recommended Changes in This Service

"An Introspection of Earlham College Over the Past Four Years" was the subject of a paper read by Prof. J. H. Coffin at the chapel exercises Thursday morning. The paper, which dealt with personal observations made by Prof. Coffin during his connection with Earlham College, was of a humorous vein throughout, but there were a number of excellent ideas brought out by him. Some changes regarding a few habitual characteristics of the daily life of the college were recommended by him.

The singing of the student body both in the week-day chapel exercises and in the chapel services of Sunday morning, in which he pointed out as predominating features the singing of only the first three verses of the hymns, together with the entire omission of the "amen" at the close of each song, was a condition touched upon by Prof. Coffin. He said that he thought the first, second and last verses, with the closing "amen," of the week-day chapel hymns, and the first, second, third and last verses, with the "amen," of the Sunday service hymns, should be sung.

The paper was well received by the students.

CHEER PRACTICE IN CHAPEL

Cheer practice took up some time at the chapel exercises yesterday morning, in preparation for the Earlham-Rose Poly basket-ball game at the Coliseum last night. A number of new songs, more especially parodies on late song hits, and the regular Earlham yells were gone over.

That mid-term examinations are now required by the faculty, however, is a misconception, as the matter lies entirely with the instructor or professor. Decisions are to be sent out this term.

COLLEGE GETS A NEW GIFT

Big Electric Motor is Presented by Henry Gennett

Henry Gennett, of the Starr Piano Company, last Wednesday made a gift to the college of a motor with which the college laundry will be run. During the college year while the power plant is in operation the laundrying machinery will be driven by the current of the light generator. The old engine which is now used will be overhauled and used during the time of year the power plant is not in operation. The motor is a fifteen-horse power Triumph design, in good condition, and is worth close to $250. The gift is the latest of many favors done the college by the Starr Company. A member of the firm recently did the college a substantial favor, but at his urgent request the details have not been made public.

The Science Club will meet Monday, February 20, in Parry Hall. A student program will be given, the speakers for the evening being Miss Elizabeth Morrison; and Messrs. Raymond T. Myrick and Fred W. Emerson.

HE WILL REMAIN AT EARLHAM

Millard L. Markle, '10, assistant instructor in the biological department will hold the same position next year. He will, however, assume more classes. Mr. Markle's experience in teaching, his college course and Chicago University course make him a competent and thorough instructor.

HAWORTH MUCH IMPROVED

Former Earlham Student Has Been Very Ill

Chester Haworth, '10, superintendent of the Centerville schools, has been critically ill with pneumonia for some time. It was feared that he would not recover, but a change for the better was seen Sunday. Owing to his absence from the schools and to a scarlet fever scare the schools of Centerville have been closed for a week. They resumed operations last Monday with Homer Morris, '11, substituting. It is thought that Mr. Haworth will not fully recover for several weeks.

LEWIS COMPLETES REVIVAL

Dalton H. Lewis, '14, who has just closed a special series of revival meetings at the Friends Church at Dublin, which lasted for three weeks, has returned to Richmond, but will not be in college any more this term. He will enter again, however, at the spring term. The result of the meetings was gratifying, as there were more than sixty professions of conversion. Mr. Lewis is pastor of the church and conducted the services unassisted.

TO CARRY EARLHAM P. O. MAIL

Lester L. Wood, '13, who is pastor of the United Brethren church at Dublin, has signed a contract with the government to carry the mail to the Earlham postoffice, the position now held by Russell Wright, '11.
